Privacy policy and legal statements relative to use of this site...

Privacy Policy

Ruffed Grouse Society (the “Organization”) understands the importance of protecting the privacy of its members and users and registered users of this website (the “Site”). The Organization is committed to providing a fun, safe and secure website for people of all ages. We are dedicated to safeguarding all personal information collected online and to helping our visitors learn how to exercise control over personal information while exploring the Internet. To help ensure a rewarding online experience for all visitors, we provide this summary of our information practices. This Privacy Policy discloses the Organization’s practices relating to collection, use and disclosure of information that you may provide to the Organization, including through this Site. Before you submit any personal information to the Organization through this Site or otherwise, please thoroughly review this Privacy Policy, and contact us if you have any questions.

Your Consent

By using this Site, you agree with and accept the terms of this Privacy Policy. Whenever you submit personal information to the Organization through this Site or in some other fashion, you consent to the collection, disclosure, use and retention of that information in accordance with this Privacy Policy.

The Organization retains the right to deny access to anyone who we believe has violated any portion of the Privacy Policy or the related Terms of Use.

Children

It is against RGS policy for a Child under age 13 to register on the Site, we ask that he or she obtain parental permission and have a parent or guardian create an RGS Account.

Collection of Information About You

The Organization collects personal information from its users and registered users of the Site primarily to assist in providing a rewarding experience during use of the Site and to assist us in fulfilling your requests. We collect such information directly through this Site, in responses to our specific requests and via e-mail, web input screens and forms, and other interactive online activities. The types of personal information we collect include your name, company, mailing address, residence, business, and/or mobile telephone number(s), e-mail address, and information about your interests.

Once you register with the Organization or the Site and sign in to our services, you are not anonymous to us.

The Organization/Site collects information about your transactions with us. Credit card information is used for one-time billing purposes only and not stored on our server(s) but is transmitted in an encrypted manner directly to the approving company. The Site's credit card system only retains the last four (4) digits of your billing information. The Organization offers recurring billing transactions, but currently only via direct communication with Organization staff which enters the information into our vendor's secure database. Storage of this card information and security is handled entirely by this vendor.

Information Sharing and Disclosure

RGS does not rent, sell, or share personal information about you with other people or nonaffiliated companies except to provide products or services you've requested, when we have your permission¹, or under the following circumstances:

- We may rent, sell or share the personal information of users, who have not Opted-out¹, to trusted partners who work on behalf of or with RGS under confidentiality agreements. These companies may use your personal information to help us communicate with you about offers from us and our marketing partners. However, these companies do not have any independent right to share this information.
- We transfer information about you if the Organization is acquired by or merged with another company. In this event, RGS will notify you before information about you is transferred and becomes subject to a different privacy policy.

¹RGS also sells its membership list to companies or organizations for one-time use to contact our members relative to products or services we think they would appreciate. Should you not want to be included in that list, please login to the RGS Forums and edit you're My Membership details: Marketing Preferences or contact Membership@ruffedgrousesociety.org to opt-out.

Since most Organization members come via fund raising banquets, to get an Opt-in for name and address sales, for one-time use by recognized mailing houses via our mail list manager, would be extremely difficult. Each issue of the quarterly magazine has an Unwanted Mail Alert in the masthead. Anyone who contacts the Organization has their record immediately updated to reflect their wishes.

An Opt-out Policy is in place for member/donor names and addresses sold via our mail list manager. It is also an opt-in (default checkmark) for those joining or renewing online as the JOIN & RENEW DIRECT form contains a Yes/No item on the donor's name and address entry page:

Share my name/address with outside businesses. Yes/No Read Policy.
<http://www.ruffedgrousesociety.org/privacy-policy#InfoShare>

An Opt-in Policy is in place for all emails, as the member may provide their email address on the banquet member stub or member application. They can opt-out easily and permanently, since we use Constant Contact for large-scale email communication, which company requires that ability with each bulk email we send.
